Light Bulb ^Moment

When he was 26 and strolling casually, an innovative idea illuminated his mind. His mind
whizzed with the image of a motor^{brain} sending waves of electricity back and forth, back and forth. Like the pendulum of a clock: tick, tock, tick, tock.

Year 4

1 Here is a map of part of a town.

a) Annie is at the park at the coordinates (4, 3).
She moves 3 squares to the left.
Where is Annie now? (1, 3)
What are the coordinates of this point?

b) Mo is at school at the coordinates (2, 1).
He walks 2 squares up.
Where is Mo now?
What are the coordinates of this point? (2, 3)

2 A map of the world is shown on the grid.

a) A plane is at point F. (4, 9)
What are the coordinates of this point?

b) The plane takes off from point F and travels 2 right and 5 down.
Find its new position on the grid and call it point G. (6, 4)
What are the coordinates of point G?

c) The plane now takes off from point G and travels 4 left and 2 up.
Find its new position and call it point H. (2, 6)
What are the coordinates of point H?

3 Point A is marked on the grid.

a) What are the coordinates of point A? (2, 2)

b) Translate point A 3 squares to the right and 2 squares up.
Label this point B and write its coordinates. (5, 4)

White Rose
MATHS

c) Translate point B 3 squares to the left.
Label this point C and write its coordinates. (2, 4)

d) Translate point C 3 squares to the right and 2 squares down.
Label this point D and write its coordinates. (5, 2)

e) Join the points.
What shape have you made? rectangle
Create your own problem like this for a partner.

4 A rectangle is drawn on the grid.

a) Alex wants to translate the rectangle 3 squares to the right and 4 squares up.

Will Alex's method work?
Talk about it with a partner.

b) Translate the rectangle 3 squares to the right and 4 squares up.
What are the coordinates of each vertex before and after translation?

Roundup / End of year

Saying goodbye

As she gestured goodbye, ^{Ella} she could sense her soul shattering and herself inhaling sorrow. Although some children were eager to take off, she put on a brave face so her mum wouldn't cry for her. Just before we were about to take off, Miss Charlotte made sure everyone packed a set of clothes, toothbrush and paste and most importantly a packed lunch. Ella sneakily took a diary she could express her thoughts in to regulate herself. Nervously, she chewed her silly brown hair.

Journey to Cornwall

On the way to depression, Ella grasped her diary, clutched it and cradled it for memories of her sweet, beloved mum. Her hyper classmates sung a briding, Silly School Song all the way there. When will everyone ^{be} arrive to their destination? As we she questioned as a boy jolted forwards and threw up out the window. Nearly she politely replied, "Get your stuff together." She announced we ^{arrived} have

Being chosen

As time passed and Ella and her friend lounged on the bench, a woman who was called Laura came along and glanced at their name tags and apparently she wanted to take us. Shivering with joy, Ella and Meghann ^{who} her best friend ~~had~~ had a silent cheer because they ~~had~~ always dreamt of living together, even though being an evacuee was devastating. When they arrived at their cosy home, Laura demanded that ~~Meghann and Ella~~ should go wash our hands. Long before that, they tiptoed downstairs to have a scrumptious supper. Laura requested they go up to bed. freezing with ~~to~~ with fear, Ella couldn't rest from thinking about her memories of mum.

the Blitz

Intro

Have you ever heard of the Blitz before and wondered what it is or when it was because this DP's explains everything. Things you need to know about that time and WW2.

when was the blitz?

The Blitz lasted 8 months and it was a series of attacks bombing and terror in London. If you were lucky enough to have an air raid shelter with you were under a concrete shelter in which people hid in air raids. If you weren't lucky enough to have one you might have sheltered in the underground train station at Elephant and Castle. which is now one of the oldest tube lines in history.

← air raid shelter

what was life like for a child

If you were a child during the Blitz then you would have been evacuated. The government was so scared they put in place operation pick people who in which take a limited amount of stuff and a gas mask and would go on a train to the country side where foster families would take care of you during the

If you got lucky with a rich family when you were at you with respect or a poor family when you work on a farm all day every day.

The end of the war. After some time as there parents died in the war and to come back with was lucky it was well and not living in which family but if you were forced to work on a farm

how did the second world war begin

The second world war (WW2) started when Germany invaded Poland. Hitler had not only invaded Poland which was British ally and France ally but he also broke the treaty Hitler had signed himself. Britain and France ally decided was on Germany war there ally while some countries were not ally at any and had nothing to do with the war and finally after 6 years of war (1939-1945) Britain and France and ally won the war for the second time.

Lewisham during the blitz

Lewisham was not targeted as it was mostly a flat land as that was where there was the main industries. The circles show where bombs landed during that time. Telegraph Hill was targeted as you can see on the map.

the women land army

The women land army was an army of women working on farms when lived in terrible living conditions and often had terrible jobs such as rat catching, cow milking and other terrible jobs and were often sick and needed to sleep. They were often very badly paid. Proper and often encouraged women to join the land army by saying it was a good thing and making people sound happy to be in the army. If they were not in the army they were often in the work with also used proper and

Dragon's Gate

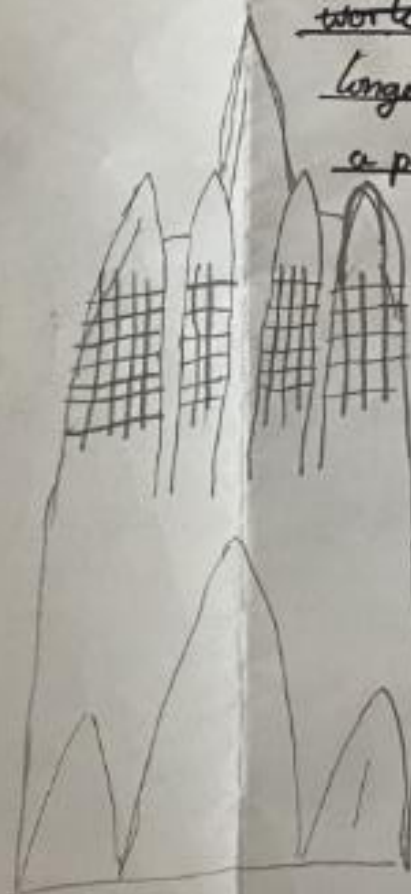

At the entrance to Güell Park, you find this striking metal dragon guards the park and its inhabitants.

It's supposed to be Ladon, protecting the Garden of the Hesperides.

Sagrada Família

This was Gaudí's life ambition, a cathedral made for a king and touching the sky.

With construction starting in 1882 and finishing in 2026 it holds the ^{spanish} world record for the longest time to build a place of worship.

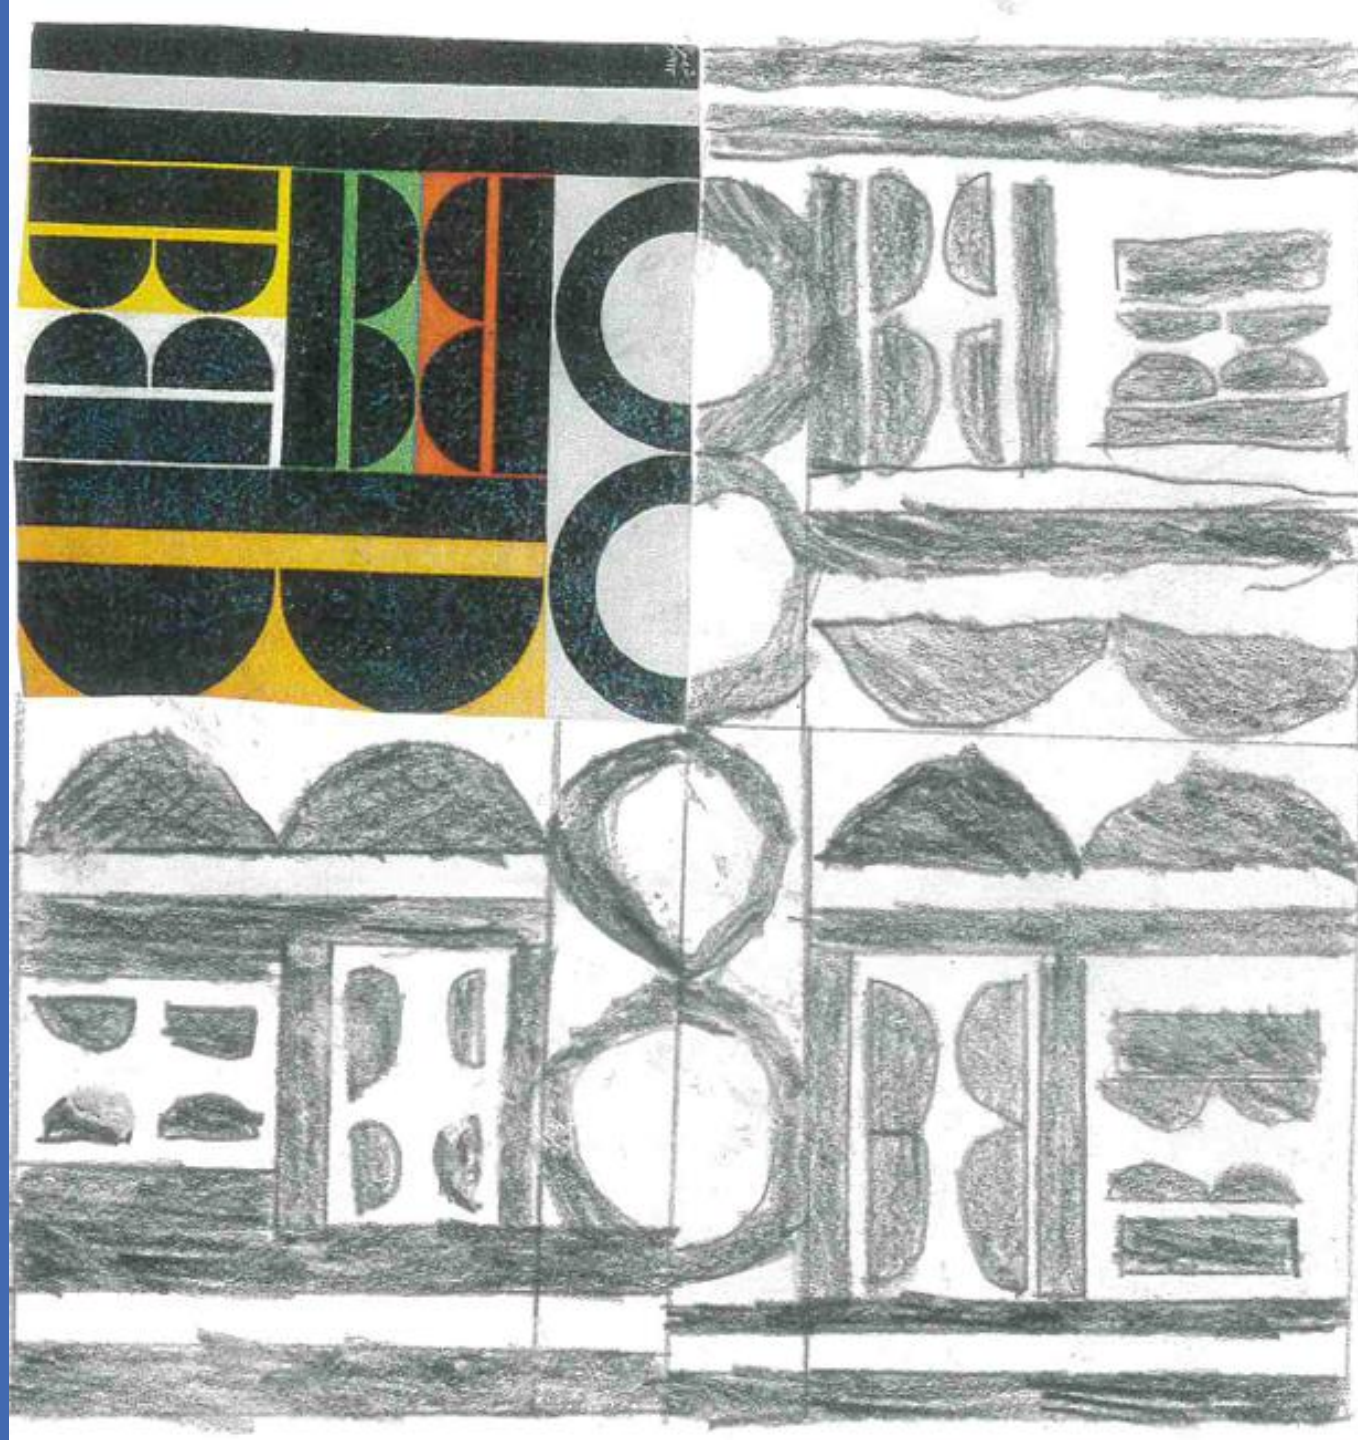

Part  Güell

Designed by Gaudí, this stunning park has over 400 visitors per 30 minutes.

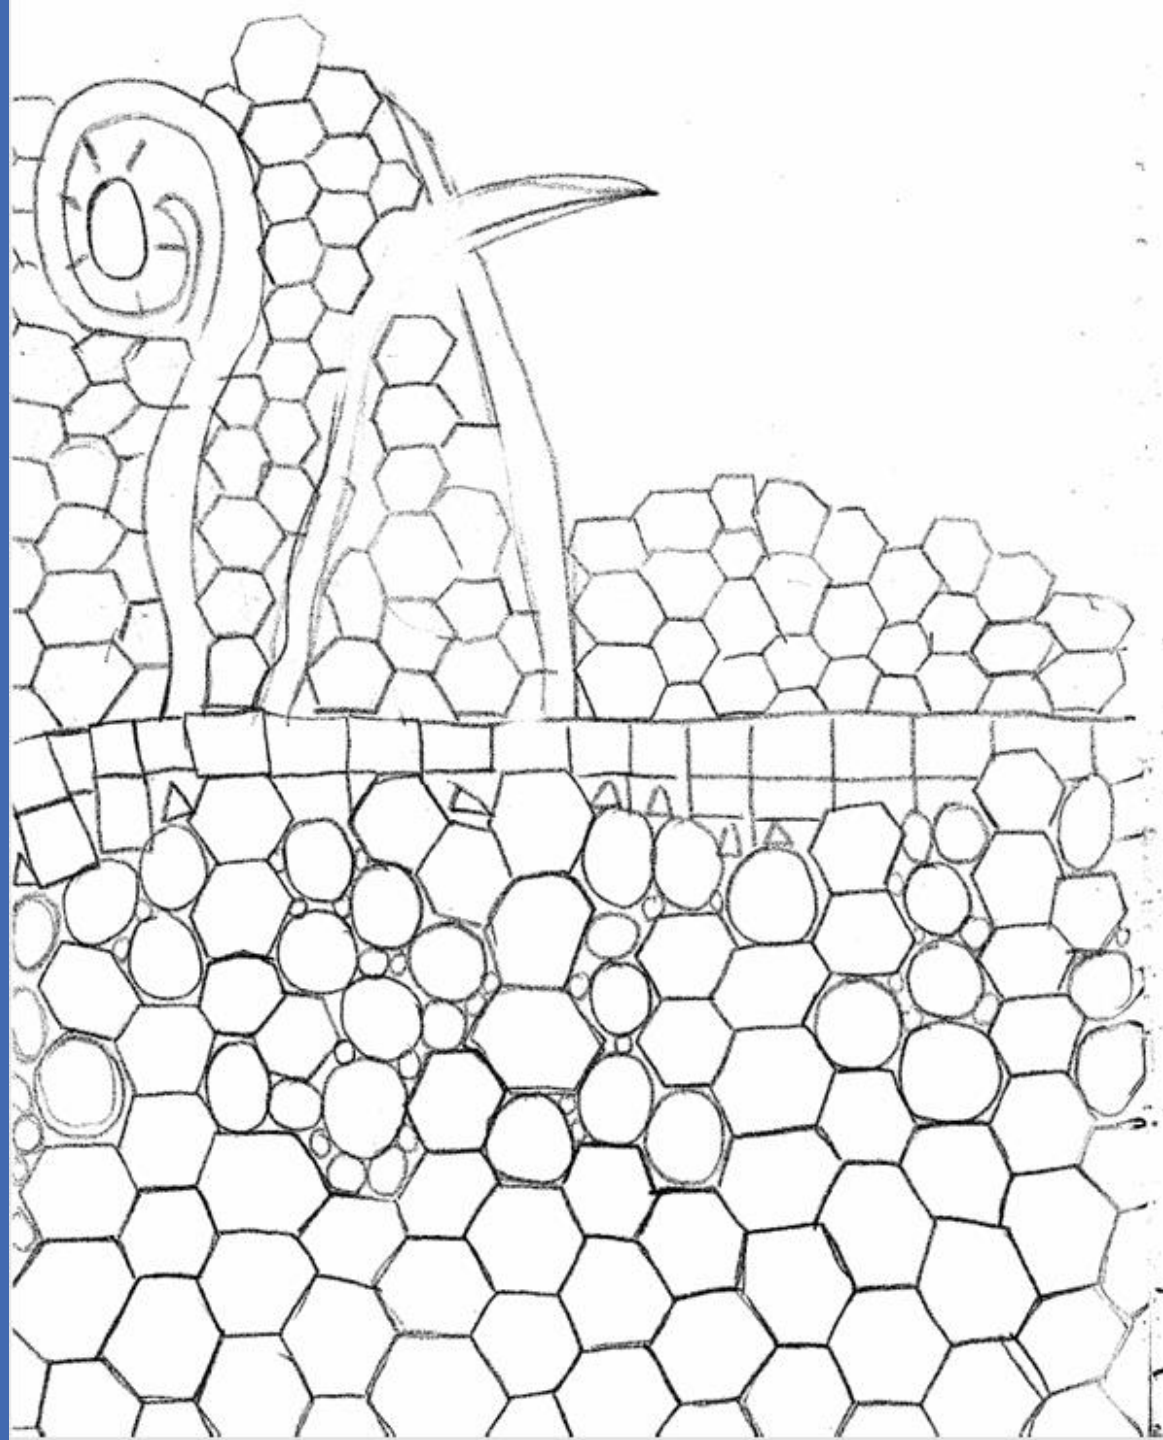

AN HONOUR IN BRICKS

To celebrate Güell - is clearly cent- every, Lego has made a Lego of the Sagrada Família.

The errand/Independent voice. 16.06.26

You stop ~~off~~ the motorboat and take a deep breath. You must remember what your mother told you: Don't hesitate. Do not get sidetracked. And get the medicine. (different part man)

You walk past shops and sellers ~~that approach you~~, but you must not speak to them. You must not look at them and you must not stop. Finally, you have ~~reached~~ left the docklands and are entering the whispering woods. The humpy path winds and twists forming, winding snake. Finally you stop. You're on the path when suddenly you are in the cave. The cave of the wolves.

You ~~stare~~ Stumbling as you hear the echoes of the omniscient wolves howling. Greeting her. You feel the hairs on the back of your neck stand up, as you smell the putrid ~~aroma~~ ^{aroma} of decaying flesh... and the sound of growling behind you. You don't dare look around, to see if it has been joined by another, as you ^{run} sprint for it. Run. Quick. Escape. Make it. For her. Make it.

You run down the path tunnel, the blinding blackness embarrassing ~~embarrassing~~ you. Crouching you. Run.

Suddenly you see an eerie glow ahead. Pale. Knowing. It's getting closer... thatt you burst through the entrance gasping for air. You have escaped. You are safe. For now...

Relief seeps through every bone and muscle in your body, as you ~~collapse on the cooling grass~~ collapse on the cooling grass. You get up, remembering. You must not stop. So... you return on.

Not every thing in this whispering woods is dark. But alot of things in the witches whispering woods ^{are} dark. Some things have crept back with new hope. Belongs not of darkness. But of light. You see a Trade Nymph on the other side of the moonlit river. You must cross over the pristine, marble bridge. You step ~~tentatively~~ ^{hesitantly} heavily, the sound echoing beautifully. The nymph looks up and presses ~~and~~ long beautiful finger to her cherry red lips. Then smiles and you. Hope ~~opens inside your chest. it~~ ^{has} returned.

Go quickly. The spiders are on the other side. Their watchful, eyes following you. Inhuman. Alien. Lurking.

You hear the soft scuttle above you and you see them descending from the treetops. Everywhere. Don't look up. Don't look down. Don't look at them crawling up your legs. Shake them off and carry on going.

Run.

Light, there. Ahead. Run for it. But then you collide with a massive hairy body. Eight ruby red eyes watching, eight massive legs twitching. Two lethal pincers. ~~Something~~ ^{Sensing} you.

Run.

You dodge around the spiders, ~~jump over them~~ and then you feel a gust of wind. You open your eyes. You're at the ~~border~~ magical barrier. Your safe.

Then you see it.

The hunt. The hunt of the witch.

You are now standing at the entrance to the garden. You set your gaze over the beautiful garden. Pale moonlight sets an eerie glow over the path. Petals Rose petals are everywhere. ~~neighed down with~~

The garden gate hangs open. You enter.

~~P~~ The beautiful and pristine garden is glittering magically. Leaves bearing heavy dewdrops. Rose petals shining like glass. Frozen in a perfect picture. Glowing. Perfect. Fox perfect. Uncomfortably perfect.

You stumble down the path.

Do you really want to do this?

No. But you must carry on.

You see smoke unfurling from the crooked chimney. Forming the magnetic shape of a spirit. Then just like that, it's gone. Your hands shake as you reach out for the door knob. You take a deep breath to calm the fear lingering in your chest. You push the door open.

What awaits you inside?

She is sitting in her rocking chair. Back and forth. Back and forth. You can't see her face. Why? Because her black hair is covering her face like a veil. A black eerie veil. She lifts her head. You stifle a gasp.

Her eyes are a vibrant blue. Her lips ~~she~~ blood red. Her cheek bones visible. She's looking at you. Your looking at her. She silently gestured to the far left. Your hand it
