Year 4

Year 5

Problem: How do we separate these dry materials from our mixture?

Question: I wonder if we can get the salt back, or if dissolving it into a solution was an irreversible change.

In order to separate the kidney beans and rice from the mixture, we used a sieve. This process is called sieving.

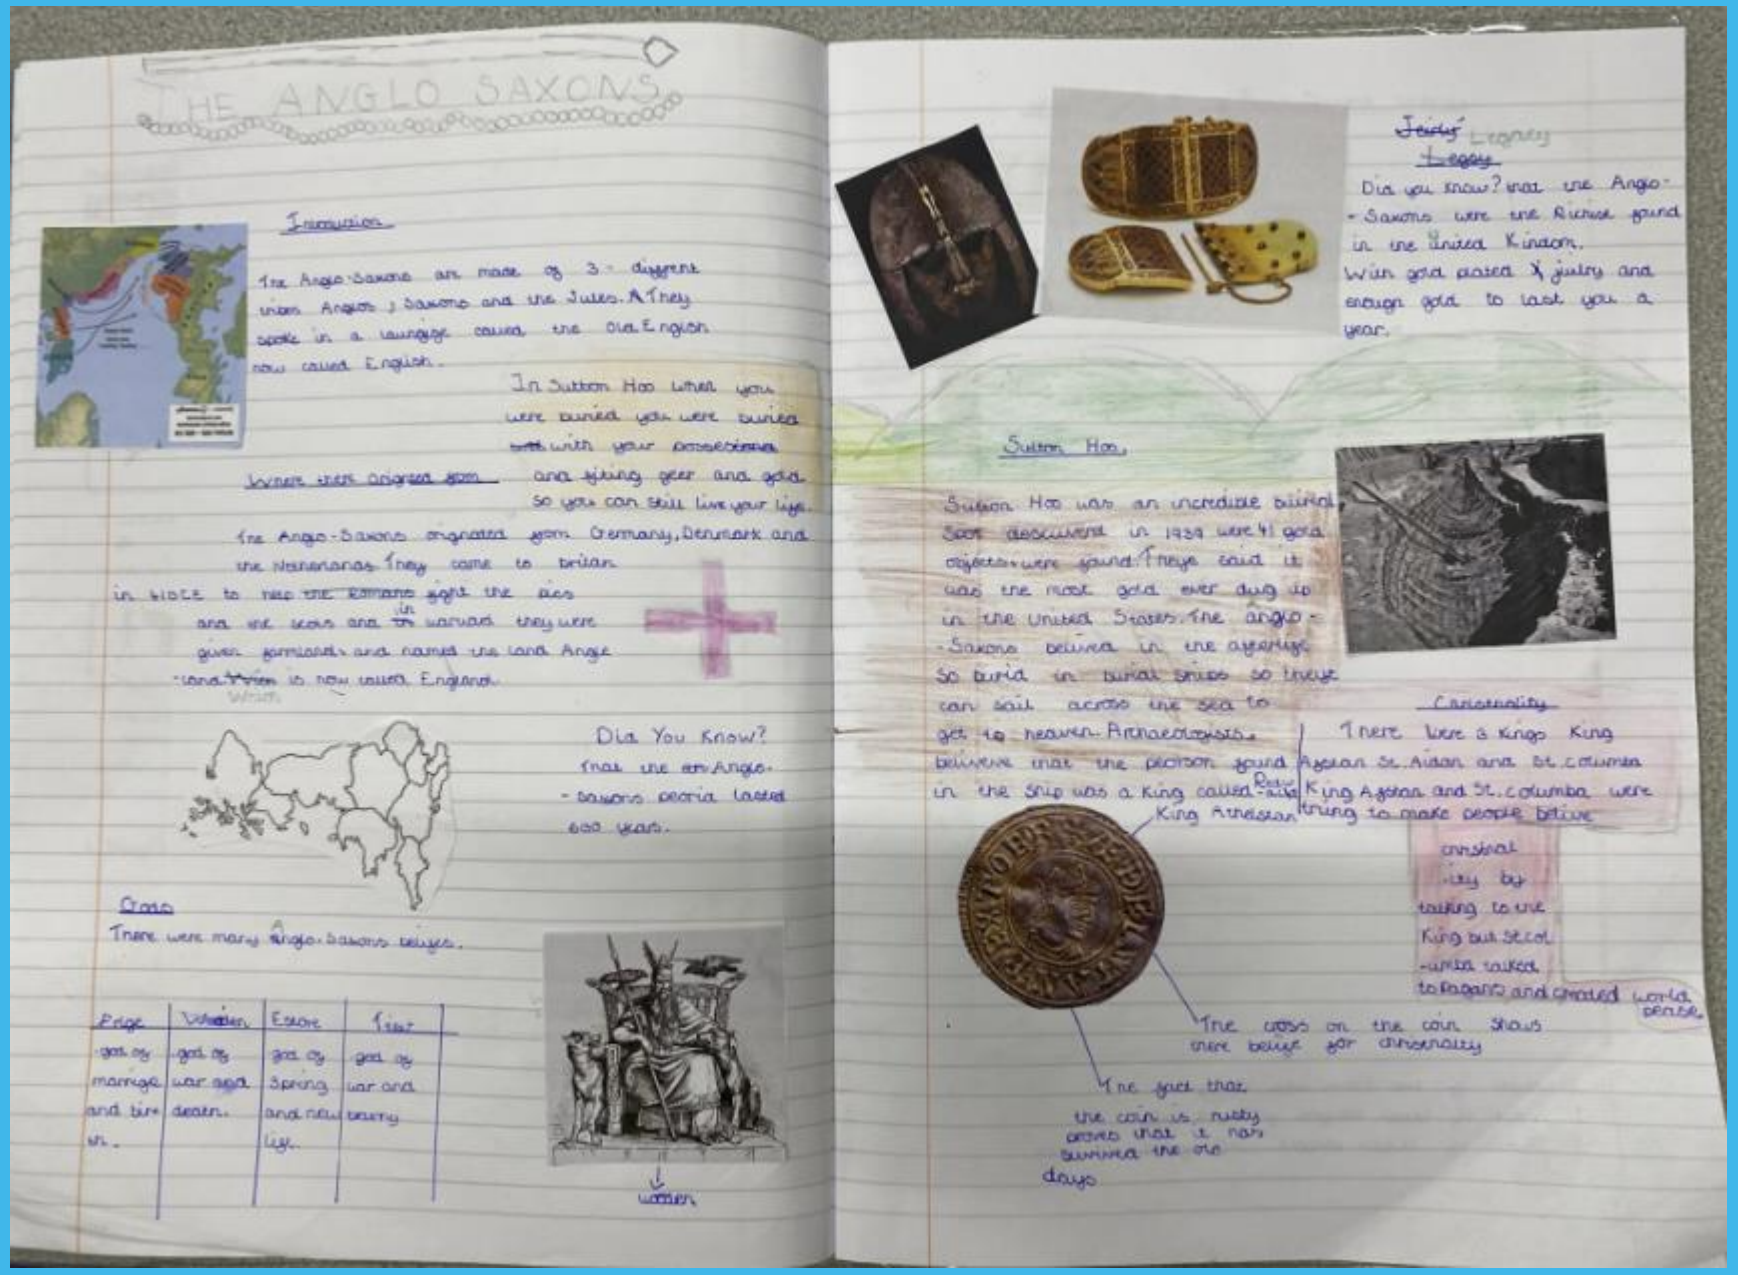

I separated the sand from the mixture using a coffee filter this process is called filtration.

We noticed the salt had dissolved in the warm water. It made a solution. This was a reversible change at the time, however if the water was to evaporate, we will have a irreversible change.

Spellings:
- coffee filter (filtration)
- sieve
- separate
- kidney beans

Vocab:
- reversible change
- irreversible change
- dissolve
- evaporate
- solution

Year 5

THE ANGLO SAXONS

Invasion

The Anglo-Saxons are made of 3 different tribes Angles, Saxons and the Jutes. They spoke in a language called the Old English now called English.

In Sutton Hoo when you were buried you were buried with your possessions and living gear and gold so you can still live your life.

~~Where they originated from~~

The Anglo-Saxons originated from Germany, Denmark and the Netherlands. They came to Britain in 410CE to help the Romans fight the Picts and the Scots and in return they were given farmlands and named the land Angle-land which is now called England.

Did You Know?
That the Anglo-Saxons period lasted 600 years.

Gods

There were many Anglo-Saxons beliefs.

Frige	Woden	Eoster	Tiw
god of marriage and birth.	god of war and death.	god of Spring and new life.	god of war and victory

Women

Jewelry

Did you know? That the Anglo-Saxons were the Richest found in the United Kingdom. With gold plated X jewelry and enough gold to last you a year.

Sutton Hoo

Sutton Hoo was an incredible burial. Soon discovered in 1939 were 41 gold objects were found. They said it was the most gold ever dug up in the United States. The Anglo-Saxons believe in the afterlife. So build in burial ships so they can sail across the sea to get to heaven. Archaeologists believe that the person found in the ship was a King called Redwald King Aethelstan

Personality

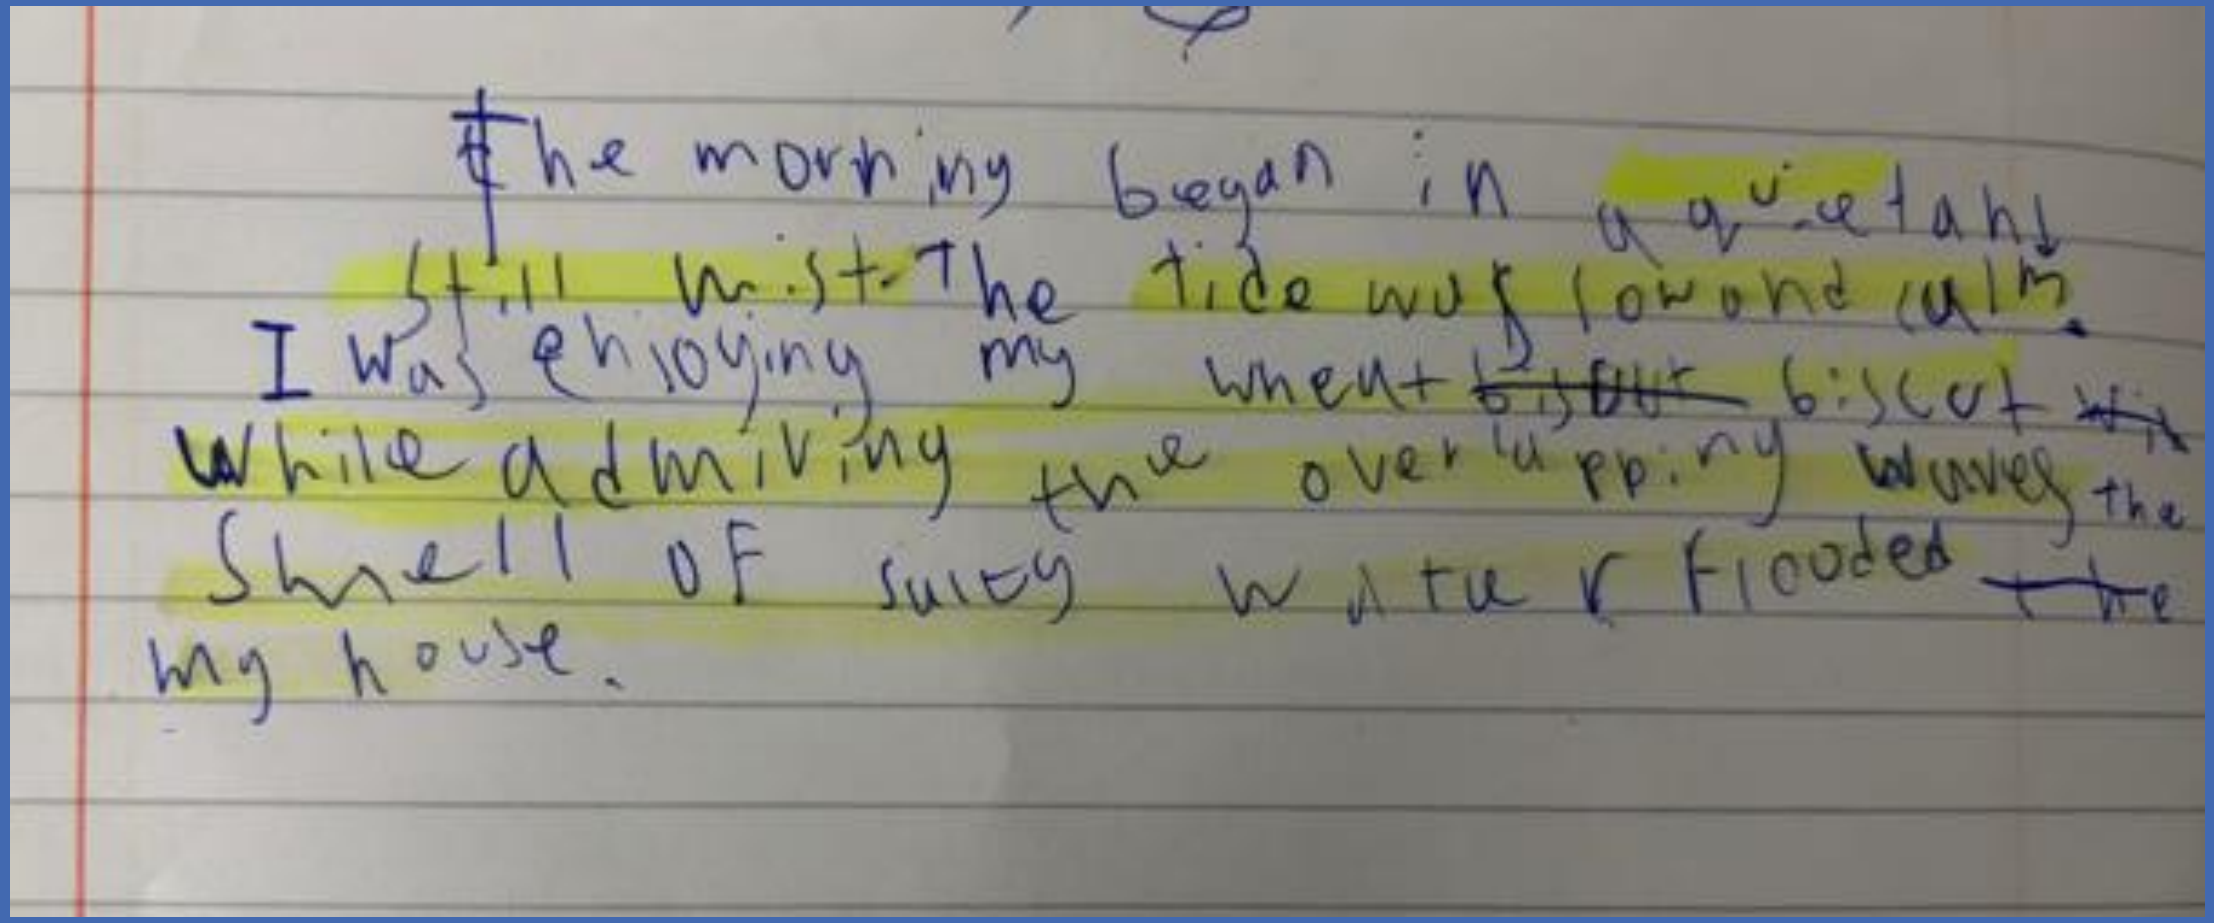

There were 3 Kings King Aydan St. Aidan and St. columba King Aydan and St. columba were trying to make people believe

- ~~trying~~ christ
- key by
- talking to the King but Steal
- ~~Aydan~~ talked to Angels and created world peace.

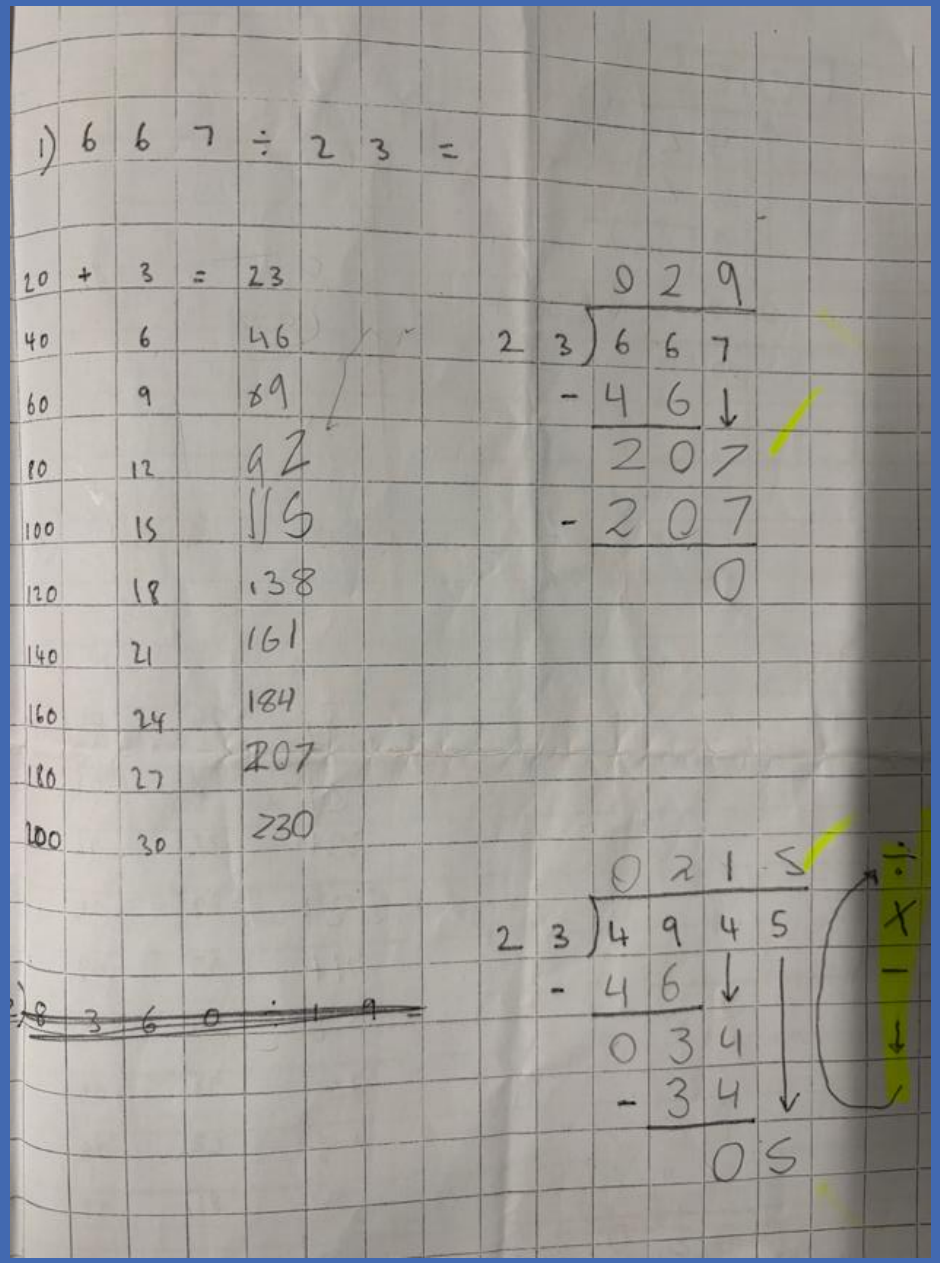

The cross on the coin shows there belief for christianity

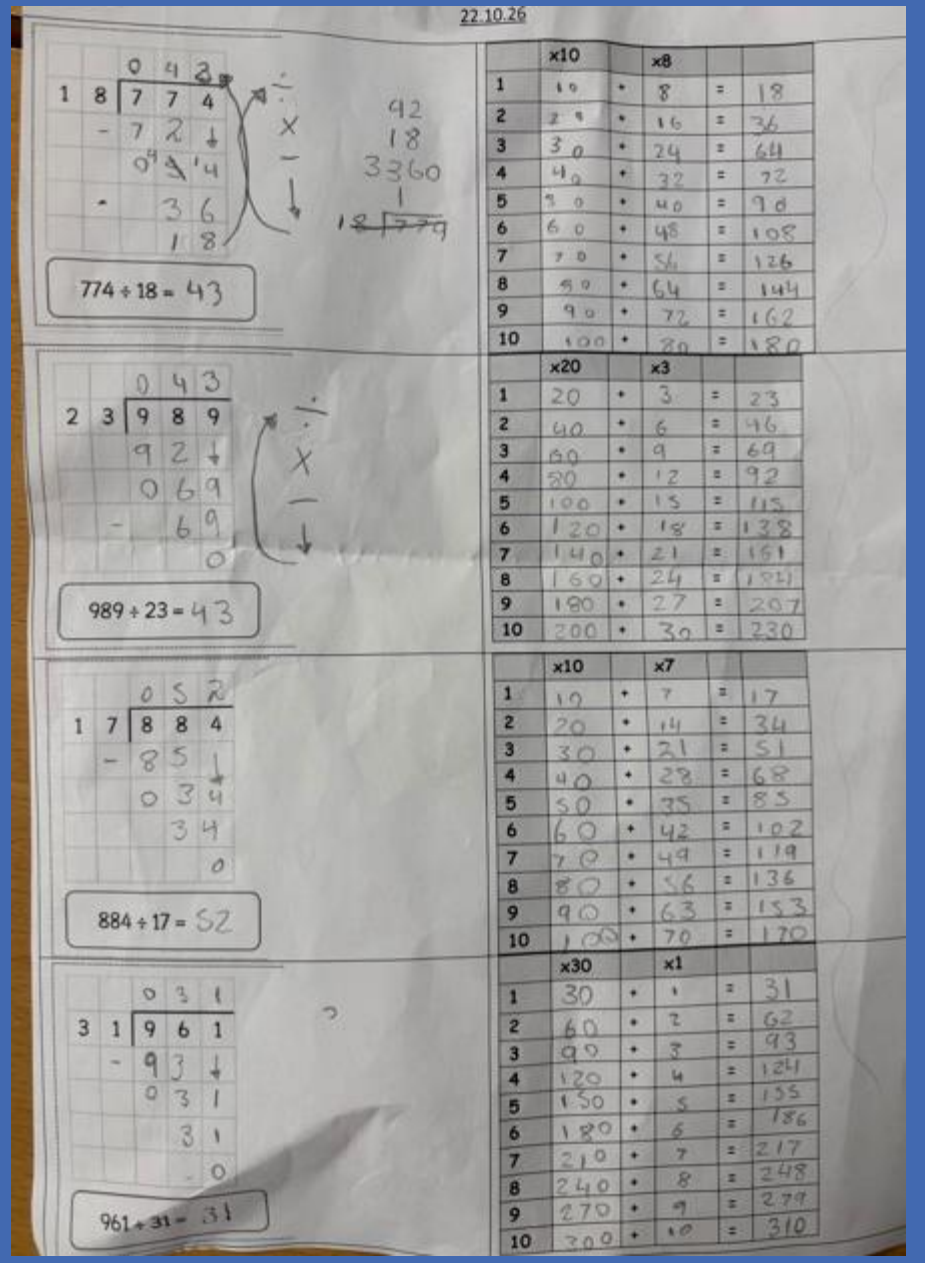

The fact that the coin is rusty shows that it has survived the old days

Year 6

The morning began in a quiet and still mist. The tide was low and calm. I was enjoying my when at 6:30ish 6:30ish while admiring the over lapping waves the shell of salty water flooded the my house.
