I Indi and the lost wrapping paper

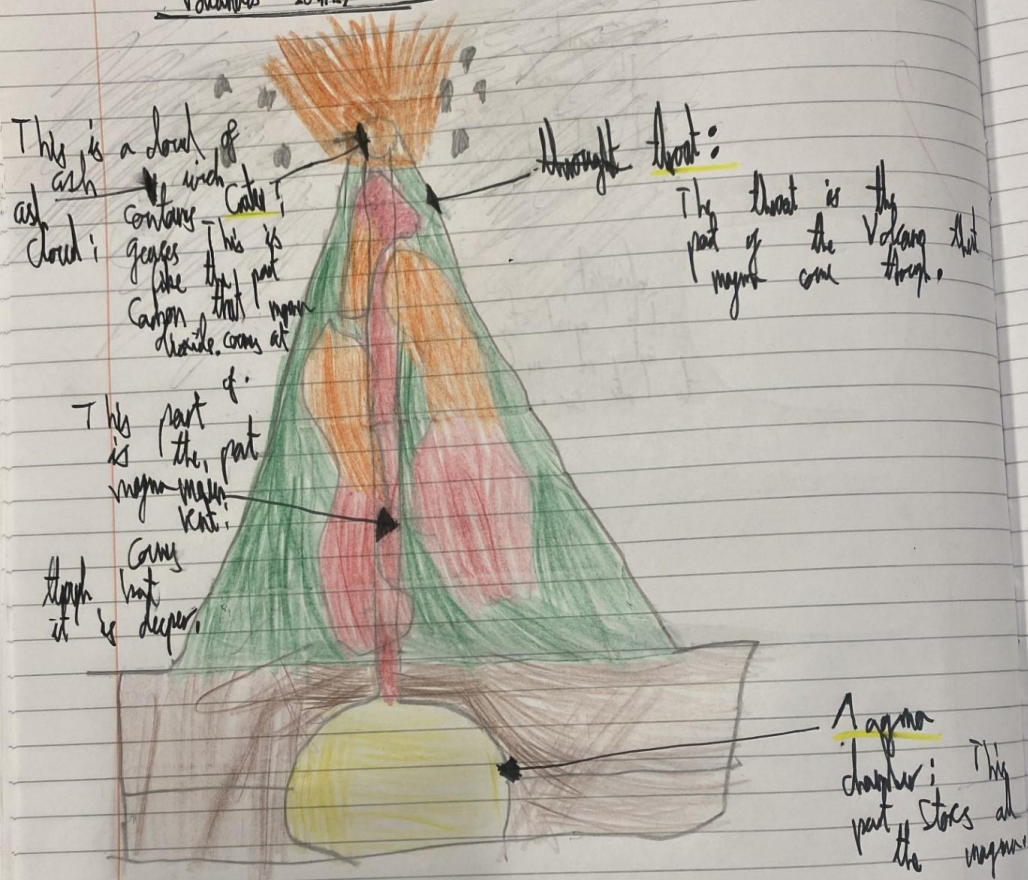

One rainy morning, Indi woke up. Indi was playing with her favorite toy, when Indi overheard her sister saying the words "Dad... present... best wrapping paper... Extravaganery." "Oh know Indi thought my sisters going to get Extravaganery wrapping paper for dad. She decided to go and ask the shopkeeper of the wrapping paper shop. "Hello Indi!" said Rega are you here to get some wrapping paper. "Yes we have now wrapping paper I was just packing up" said Indi and of she went to Rega's ground. "Hello Tessa, Tessa jumped. Oh you gave me a fright now sorry but do you have any wrapping paper?" "Oh yes sorry. That's OK said Indi and of she went to George's fabric shop. Hello Indi said George. Are you here to buy some fabric. No Indi said. I want wrapping paper. Indi sobbed and cried and waled. "Oh said George and Indi left. Indi sobbed and cried and waled. Indi saw a little girl walking home with wrapping paper in her hand. Indi was determined so she got out her favorite toy from her rucksack and faced to the girl. "Please may I have that wrapping paper but the girl said Indi interrupted. I will swap that for my favorite toy. The girl glared at the toy and rudely snatched it and skipped of leaving the wrapping paper in the mud. "Oh no Indi thought I better give it a wash but were there was a duck pond nearby by all wash it there. Indi thought so she did but there were so many ducks in the pond so she took a deep breath and dipped it in the water and nothing happened. Oh waw thought Indi. Let's go home now and they went home. When they got home Indi wrapped the present and handed it to dad. Oh waw that's amazing I love it I don't want to throw this in the bin I want to keep it because I love it. Thanks dad Indi beamed.

My sister got home out of breath and super soggy. Are you OK I asked. I couldn't find any amazing Extravaganery wrapping paper. Oh that's OK said mum all that matters is that I have all of you. Thanks mum ss said which is my big sister. Me and my sister sat down at the table and had some toast with icing and sprinkles on it.

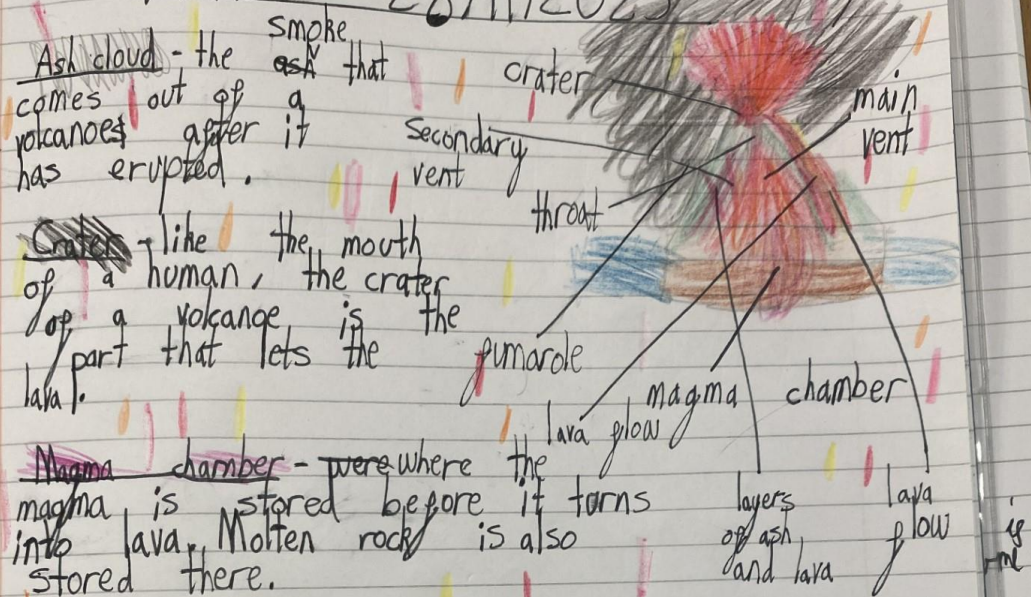

Year 3

Volcanoes 28/11/23

Volcanoes are formed by the ground pushing apart. Volcanoes don't erupt all the time because they don't always have magma rising up. A dormant volcano stops an erupting volcano. An active volcano is still erupting. A dormant volcano is not erupting. An extinct volcano is not erupting. A dormant volcano can erupt again. A dormant volcano is not erupting. A dormant volcano can erupt again.

Volcanoes 28/11/2023

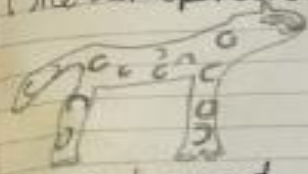

Volcanoes are formed when two tectonic plates move away from each other. Volcanoes don't always erupt because the tectonic plates stop moving apart. They move very slowly. An active volcano normally erupts, a dormant volcano sometimes erupts and an extinct volcano will never erupt again.

Year 3

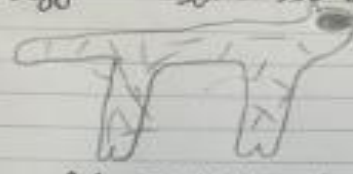

How mountains are formed

24.11.23

Fold mountains are formed when tectonic plates move together and push up. The taller the mountain, the colder the temperature. The temperature affects the wildlife.

Snow Leopard

Mountain Goat

Fault block mountains

Fault block mountains are formed when tectonic plates rub together and some ground moves up, some moves down. The bits that move up are mountains.

Volcanic mountains

Volcanic mountains are formed when the tectonic plates push together and one goes under the other. The one under melts and becomes magma. The mountain is made from layers of cooled lava.
