Y6 - Having Their Moment in the Sun

Wow - what a week it has been here at Waller towers! We want to start the newsletter with a BIG WELL DONE to our Year 6 team - children and staff - for getting through this week's Key Stage 2 SATS. Across the country, all year 6 children will have sat assessments in Reading, Grammar & Spelling and Maths. These tests are essentially designed to track how effective a job each primary school in the country is doing.

To ensure the children felt alloyed and ready for action, we put on a SATS breakfast every morning. The Year 6's loved it and it set them up to do as well as they possibly could.

Aside from the amazing Year 6 teachers - Ms. Davis & Mr Hill (+Ms Murtagh!) - we also wanted to highlight some unsung heroes. Liz, Ms Price, Ms Greenbank and Mr Hudson all rolled up their sleeves each morning to ensure that the breakfast made it out to the tables on time! We really appreciated their support.

The children will receive their results with their end of year reports in July. As a school, we are hoping that these results continue to build on the very positive outcomes from last year - Edmund Waller 2022/23 Results

Of course, it's not all about Year 6 and their assessments, across the school there has been all manner of exciting happenings. Year 2 are having a very nice time with their curriculum at the moment. Not only have they started making 'stop frame animation movies' (click on the images to see their first attempts), but they are also looking after some very cute visitors. Yes, they have the freshly hatched chicks in their classroom and they cannot stop checking on them and talking about them.

In other year group news, today, Year 4 have been whisked back in time to the Victorian era, with a full day's workshop. Some of them have been quite startled by the Victorian teacher's ever so slightly less 'child centred' approach to education!! Hopefully they will learn loads and come to appreciate their class teachers' dedication and support, that little bit more!

"Y4, Pay Attention!"
